SCOUTS OBSERVE 28TH BIRTHDAY

60 Members And Leaders Mark Scout Sunday; "Open House" By Troops This Week

Boy Scouts of America began their 28th Anniversary Week celebration on Sunday by attending church services in the respective communities.

In Placerville, more than sixty Boy Scouts and Scout leaders of the county, attended the Sunday morning service at the Federated Church, where the Rev. Harold Morehouse had planned a special service and message.

The anniversary week observance in Placerville continues on Monday when Scouts will gather about their radio receiving sets at 3:45 o'clock to hear the Scout Week address of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America.

One other radio broadcast of the week will mark the occasion. That comes on Wednesday night, February 9, with Boy Scouts and their friends will listen in at 6:30 o'clock, Pacific Time, on the Boy Scout-NBC Birthday Party. This will feature pick-ups portraying Scout activities in Hawaii, San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, New York, and by short wave to the MacGregor expedition in Greenland.

El Dorado County's Boy Scout troops are all holding "open house" at their meetings this week, and invite their parents and friends to attend.

Smith Flat troop meets tonight at the school house.

The Church troop meets Wednesday night at the Junior Community Hall in Placerville, and on Thursday night the Camino troop meets at their community hall, the Diamond Springs troop meets at their schoolhouse, and the American Legion troop in Placerville. (Turn to page 3)

Andy Sabini Is Claimed Sunday

Passing At Shingle Home Brings Relief From Long Illness For County Man

Andrew Sabini, 46, passed away late Sunday afternoon at his residence at Shingle Springs following an illness which had confined him to his bed for about four years.

The body was brought to Placerville in care of the Dillinger mortuary chapel and the time and place of funeral services is at this writing pending. Burial will be at El Dorado.

We were unable, this morning, to communicate with members of the family and therefore do not have their report of his life as reference for these notes.

We have known Mr. Sabini for several years and learned during this time that he engaged in mining in early life and it was while at this work that he contracted the infection which brought on his last illness.

Following several years of residence at Diamond Springs, he and Mrs. Sabini operated the coffee shop at Phillips Station for one season and, subsequently, Mr. Sabini operated the Montezuma Hotel at Nashville.

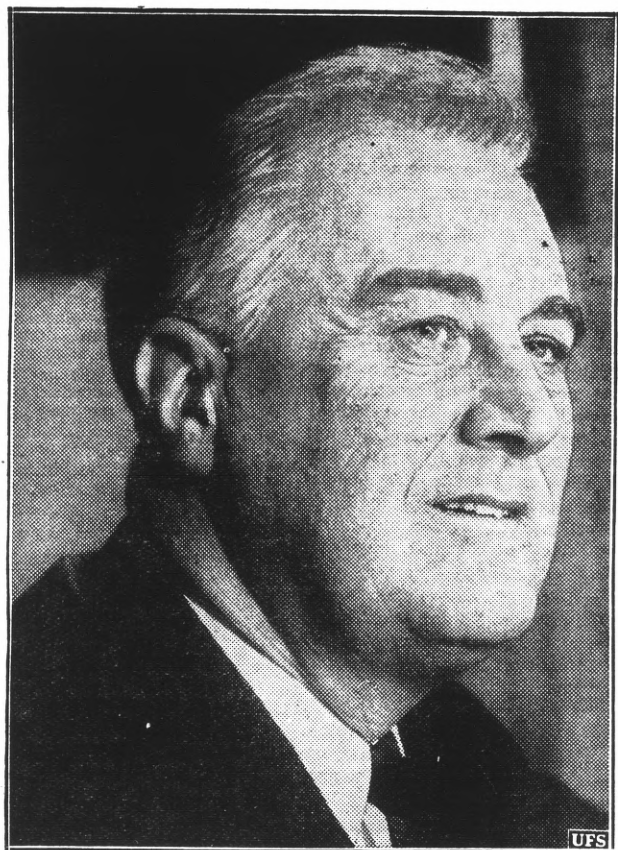

He had plans for a hotel business on the site of the old Planter's Hotel, at Shingle, and had completed a building for that purpose when, about four years ago, he was taken ill.

He is survived by his wife and their devoted son, Waldo.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE AT 56—This picture of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was made in the White House in Washington, on the eve of his 56th birthday. A bit grayer about the temples, his facial lines etched slightly deeper, he is reported in robust health. "The President's physical condition is really excellent," said Dr. Ross T. McIntire, his White House physician, in a statement to the press recently.

POLICE RADIO TRAPS THEFT SUSPECTS

Youths Nabbed At Madera With Car Stolen 15 Hours Earlier In Placerville

The advantages of the California Highway Patrol's radio communication system were demonstrated Friday night soon after Jack Hamilton, of Placerville, reported the theft of his car from a Placerville street.

Hamilton notified city officers who reported the matter to the El Dorado County squad of the Highway Patrol, asking that the theft be reported on the patrol's radio broadcast.

The broadcast was on the air within a few hours after the car was taken with the result that about 7 o'clock Saturday morning, at Madera, highway patrol officers picked up the car and in it were J. C. Puthuff and Glen Gibson, both of Placerville and both 17 years old. The car was recovered within fifteen hours after it was stolen.

City Officers D. W. Le Bourveau and Marvin Killian with the owner of the car went to Madera Saturday and returned Puthuff and Gibson to Placerville while Hamilton drove his car home.

The youths were turned over to county authorities and, according to officers, indicated their intention to plead guilty to grand theft charges.

They are said to have been bound for San Diego and intended driving the car until the fuel supply gave out. At the time of their arrest their joint capital was two cents.

On the basis of this performance, it seems that some inquiry should be made with a view to obtaining a Highway Patrol radio station in Placerville. The rapid interchange of information which such a station would make possible would undoubtedly assist local officers in their work, and would help them in their co-operation with other officers throughout the state.

County Snowfields Lure Winter Sports Fans

A large number of winter sports fans spent Sunday in the snowfields east of Placerville, congregating at Kyburz, Riverton, Pacific House and the vicinity of Sportsman's Hall.

It was at this point that a detail of the highway patrol enforced the rule that cars going into the American River Canyon must be equipped with chains, and many of the parties who were in cars not equipped with chains spent the day in this district.

"Battle Of Goats" Bad On Store Window

ELMER, Okla., (UP)—Ed Wilson's grocery store window was boarded up today.

Earl Hulet's goat, Toughy, was the cause.

Toughy walked down the street until he came to the grocery. Facing the window, the goat saw what he thought was another goat. The other goat apparently infuriated him by repeating his every motion.

Toughy charged, his head lowered. The second goat disappeared. Toughy continued his walk down the street.

J. H. WILLIAMS RITES TO BE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral services for John Henry (Jack) Williams, who died February 2 of bronchial pneumonia, will be held at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon from Memory Chapel. Rev. Harold Morehouse will officiate. Burial will be at Middletown cemetery.

Mr. Williams had been employed in the lumbering industry in this county for several years. He is survived by his wife.

Walter Weltz Taken To Prison On Monday

Walter Weltz, who pleaded guilty to a grand jury indictment charging an attempt at an infamous crime against nature, was taken to San Quentin prison Monday morning by Sheriff George M. Smith.

Weltz had been sentenced by Judge George H. Thompson to serve the term prescribed by law at San Quentin. In this case the term is one to five years.

$200 Fine Or 100 Days For Drunk Driver

Arthur L. Lewis, 38, of Del Paso Heights, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or spend 100 days in jail when found guilty Monday morning before Justice of the Peace J. W. Landis, at Diamond Springs, on a charge of drunken driving.

Lewis had been arrested Sunday by Officer H. B. Fowler, of the state highway patrol. Lewis was unable to pay the fine immediately and was remanded to jail. It was indicated he will endeavor to pay the fine.

NAVY "STANDS ON ITS OWN"

"No Foreign Commitments," Admiral Leahy Tells Naval Affairs Committee

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, today told the house naval affairs committee that the United States fleet expects to "stand on its own feet" in national defense. He flatly denied any foreign commitments or understandings.

"The navy has no thought of obtaining assistance from any other nation," Leahy said.

"It has no thought of giving assistance in the solution of the problems of any other nation."

"It has no foreign commitments," Leahy's statement was in response to a question by chairman Carl Vinson, D. C., author of the pending bill to carry out President Roosevelt's recommendation for a 20 per cent bigger navy.

Vinson said an inference had been drawn from Leahy's testimony last week that secret commitments of some kind existed. He asked Leahy whether he desired to answer the inference. Leahy immediately read a 200 word statement which included the sentences quoted above.

JAPAN WEIGHS NOTE

TOKYO (UP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that "perhaps" Japan will answer within the time set in the request of the United States, Great Britain and France, for specific information on Japan's naval building programs.

But it was intimated in reliable quarters that even if an answer were sent by February 20, as requested, the government would be likely to say that

Townsend Facing Term In Jail

Federal Appeals Court Upholds Conviction On Contempt Charges

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The U. S. court of appeals today upheld the conviction of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension leader, on charges of contempt of a house committee investigating his activities.

Townsend is under sentence of 30 days in jail and a $100 fine.

He was cited for contempt of the house on March 12, 1932, after he stalked angrily out of a committee hearing, investigating old age pensions.

Under circuit court rules, attorneys for Townsend have five days in which to file an application for a rehearing or appeal. Unless such action is taken within five days, the court will issue a mandate ordering Townsend to begin his sentence.

COMMENT DECLINED

PORTLAND, Ore., (UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the old-age pension movement who advocated a new political party here yesterday in an address, refused today to comment upon the ruling of United States Court of Appeals upholding his contempt conviction.

Travel Section Will Not Meet Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. John Barton were callers from Shingle Monday.

GEORGE HOFMEISTER 75 ON TUESDAY

Family Dinner At Berkeley Will Honor Charter Member Of N. S. G. W. Parlor

SACRAMENTO—George Hofmeister, page boy in the legislature in Sacramento 61 years ago, later one of the commissioners appointed to direct erection of the monument to commemorate gold discovery at Coloma, will celebrate his 75th birthday anniversary Tuesday in Oakland.

Open house will be held today in the Hofmeister home, 6111 Hillegas avenue, Oakland, for friends of the veteran. Members of the family will attend a dinner in Hotel Whitecotton, Berkeley, Tuesday.

Hofmeister, born in Placerville, held numerous county and government positions prior to his retirement in 1935. Since then he has traveled extensively and plans to leave for the South Seas and Australia in May.

Parents of Hofmeister owned the old Ohio House in Placerville where James Marshall stayed when in the town and Hofmeister became a personal friend of the discoverer of gold.

He is the only living charter member of Parlor No. 9, Native Sons of the Golden West, Placerville, which was organized in 1881. In 1931, the parlor observed the 50th anniversary of Hofmeister's membership. He is a member of Past President's Association, N. S. G. W.

Hofmeister has two sons, C. T. Hofmeister and A. S. Hofmeister, both of San Francisco. His wife, now dead, was Miss Annie Ash.

CITY COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT; SEWER BIDS MAY BE AWARDED

Members of the Placerville City Council meet at city hall this (Monday) evening for their regular February session.

Aside from routine business, chief interest in the meeting concerns the matter of awarding contracts on the major units of construction in the sewer improvement project, on which bids were opened a week ago.

The councilmen have had the bids under consideration, seeking to award the contract upon a basis most advantageous to the city. It was indicated Monday morning that some members of the council may be in favor of re-advertising the matter and calling for an entire new set of bids in the event they are unable to come to terms with the contractors at tonight's meeting.

Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith and Ranger Raleigh Bryan were at San Francisco Monday on business.

WEATHER

Unsettled, rain tonight and Tuesday; snow higher; high 52, low 34.

'SHEP' HONORED IN RETIREMENT

Veteran Prexy Declines To Continue Because Of Health; Gregory New President

AUBURN—Clarence Gregory of Lincoln, Sunday was elected president of the Placer-Nevada Baseball League at the meeting of the league directors and fans held at the Freeman Hotel.

He succeeds W. A. Shepard who has headed the organization for the past nine years. In recognition of his services to the league Mr. Shepard was elected honorary president for life.

Harry White of Auburn was elected vice-president succeeding Lee Tudsbury of Loomis while Allen G. Thurman of Colfax, was re-elected secretary.

In addition to Gregory, "Bevo" Le Bourveau, of Placerville, was also nominated, the vote being, for Gregory 5 and for Le Bourveau 3. Le Bourveau's name was presented by the Loomis club. For vice-president Eugene Garbolino was nominated but declined.

The league again will permit a limited number of outside players to participate in the circuit, with Colfax being allowed six outside players, Loomis four and the balance of the clubs three outsiders each. This action was taken when a previous motion to bar all outside players was rescinded. The league allowed a limited number of outside players last season for the first time in a number of years with the result that the majority of the directors believed that such action had speeded up the play and gave the circuit a more evenly balanced group of teams.

The date of the April 10th was set for the opening of the league games.

The following seven clubs assured the

Mayo's Work For Mining Lauded

Trade Paper Commends Two Aspirants For Political Advancement By Electors

Two very good friends of the mining industry have announced themselves as candidates for higher State offices than those they now hold. They are State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell and Assemblyman Jesse M. Mayo, says The Western Mining News.

"Senator Seawell is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. A member of the State Legislature the past ten years, Senator Seawell is known throughout California as a sound legislator and a miner from start to end.

"It does not seem important to consider partisan lines, other candidates or any other angles when deliberating his candidacy from a miner's viewpoint.

"The miners have always found Jerry Seawell to be a staunch friend—ready to do everything possible in their interests. He has proved his soundness and his courage. Need any more be said?

"Well—only this: Let those in the industry show the same interest in his problem as he has always shown in ours.

"Jesse M. Mayo, publisher of Angels Camp and San Andreas, and for three terms Assemblyman for the 6th Assembly District, will be a candidate for the State senate at next November's elections.

"Mr. Mayo will run to succeed Dan E. Williams who resigned from the office a few months ago.

"Mr. Mayo should have the full support of the mining industry for he has earned it well. Six years of service in the Assembly qualify him for the office he now seeks—and his record during those six years was made as a recognized and respected representative of the mining districts.

"Not only should Mr. Mayo have the endorsements of all who are in mining, but he should have their active support as well."

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nightingale and three children of Sacramento visited with Clarence Larsen at this home near Camino over Sunday.

FIGHTING FACTS

DOG PROFICIENT JUGGLER USING BOARD TWELVE FEET LONG

ABERDEEN, Wash. (P)—Ross Bates wouldn't be surprised at anything that Copper might bring home.

Copper is a Belgian shepherd, smaller than the type known as police dogs. The dog already has carried home shipplap, two-by-fours, and other pieces of lumber.

He uses them in a self-taught juggling and balancing act with which he amuses himself for hours at a time.

At present he is using a piece of ship lap 12 feet long, but will do his trick with any stick of this or greater length. Copper lifts one end of the board in his mouth and slides his teeth along it until it balances. Then he twists his body and gives the board a little toss, maneuvering so the lumber drops on his shoulders. He shifts his position until the board balances on his shoulders and walks as far as he can without losing the load. When the board falls off, he starts all over again.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McEMORE
United Press Staff Writer

MOBILE, Ala. (P)—This is the deep south. This is the land of little pickaninies and sweet potatoes, of magnolias and black-eyed peas, of jonicas and pig jowl, of honeysuckle and clabber. It's the land where even the bobwhite has a drawl, and confederate money is still honored.

This is the deep south. The south is home to me. After a long absence, it all seemed so fresh to me that I felt I wanted to write a story about it. I told my friends in Mobile how I felt and they tried to help me catch the essence of the south. They showed me Bellingrath Gardens, one of the finest in the world. It was breath-takingly beautiful, even to a sportswriter. They sat me down to a fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings. They gave me a sip of old, old corn. They showed me cotton fields, pretty girls, and an old wharf where darkies sang and danced.

These and many other things they showed me. But all along I felt as if something were lacking, that they had overlooked something that was even more typical of the south than any of these. What it was I did not know, and might have still been wondering had I not pulled into a filling station for gasoline.

The thing most typical of the south—the very essence of the south, is the overwhelming attention and friendliness the motorist is given in a filling station. Had I been a brother home from the wars, I could not have been greeted more effusively than I was by these strangers. One inquired tenderly after my health. One said, "Where you going?" One said, "Where you been?" Meanwhile, the less social-minded attendants rushed at the gas tank, the oil pump, the radiator, the windshield, and the tire valves. A colored youngster burst into the car and started cleaning it out with a whisk broom.

When my tank was filled and the car shone like new, all of them gathered around and offered advice on my trip ahead. At least three of them had relatives who had recently gone over the road I was to follow, and knew every dip, curve, bridge, and detour.

Up and Down Broadway

By JACK GAVER

United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, (P)—The news about "Bachelor Born" is all to the good. It is no great drama and the ingredients can be defined as familiar, but the fact remains that the Shuberts have provided a piece of pure entertainment which can only be described as heart warming.

This new play by Ian Hay, veteran British concocter of gentle comedies, is the type of thing that has been missing from the current season and which I had begun to think was a lost art. However, it only needed the correct combination of an expert script, a friendly cast and able direction to demonstrate that a simple story about likeable people still can find an audience. Incidentally, this is the first importation of a play with a London reputation to strike a responsive chord on this side of the water this season.

The third time is a charm, they say, and if it did not prove to be quite fact that for George Abbott it at least brought better results than the two previous ones. "All That Glitters" is his third production of the season, and despite its shortcomings, is fair entertainment and much ahead of his two previous offerings.

"If I Were You" brings Constance Cummings back for her second try at success this season and if her playing was all that was needed to put this over everything would be all right. She does nobly in a ticklish role and has marvelous aid from Bernard Lee, a British newcomer whose presence is a pleasure. However, Paul Hervey Fox and Benn W. Levy have fallen considerably short of writing a capital farce and the whole affair bogs rather badly after an amusing start. The trouble is due to the fact that once you get the idea—and it is definitely a one idea play—and have had your chuckle or two over it, you find that the endless variations on the theme pall quickly. The authors have taken an idea from a novel of the late Thorne Smith, master of the farcical story, which is a dangerous thing to do because there never has been anyone like Smith for making his brand of silliness entertaining.

This particular idea concerned an exchange of sex between man and wife. The playwrights give us Arthur Blunt, an extremely studious young scientist, and his wife, who is tiring of his inattention and lack of push. He is content to spend his time in research and she is determined to take him out of his shell into the world of events. This is finally accomplished after a hectic period in which the wife acquires the characteristics of the husband and vice versa through the amateur dabbling in witchcraft of their Irish maid, who is piqued because the master ridicules her suggestion that he follow the Black Arts rather than science in his research aimed at changing the sex of newts.

If you are not too exacting, it may be your dish, but I warn you that the cream of the jest is rather thin and once scooped off leaves nothing much in the cup.

OAKLAND MOTHER ADOPTS OWN CHILD AFTER EIGHT YEARS

OAKLAND, (P)—When Mrs. Beulah Morrison of this city went through the rather unusual formality of legally adopting her own daughter, she brought to a happy ending one of the oddest domestic tragedies that resulted from the depression.

Following her divorce from her husband in 1927, when she was awarded the custody of her little daughter, Patricia, all went well for a while until the depression in 1930 made it impossible for her to earn enough to support them both.

Under the circumstances, a married sister and her husband agreed to adopt Patricia and hear her as a member of their own family. The necessary court proceedings accordingly were gone through with which invested in them all legal rights for the custody of the girl.

With the passing of the depression, however, the mother finally obtained a good position as an accountant and in the end was able to establish a home for herself.

The foster parents in the meantime had become devotedly attached to Patricia. But after a family consultation it was decided that Patricia, now 15, should go back to her mother.

To make it legal, however, it was necessary for the mother to bring legal proceedings for the adoption of her own daughter to set aside the validity of the first adoption.

Dairymen from many counties and several foreign countries attended the short course at Davis recently.

BRONCHO BILL

A Dying Spark

By Harry F. O'Niell

MAJOR CONSTRUCTION ON VALLEYS PROJECT MAY START SOON

Commissioner John Page of the Reclamation Bureau, advised Congressman John F. Dockweiler, of the 16th California District that $19,000,000 probably would be contracted for expenditure on the Central Valleys' Project in California during the coming fiscal year.

Mr. Page told Mr. Dockweiler negotiations were nearing completion on an agreement with the Southern Pacific Railroad which would clear the last obstacle in the way of constructing Shasta Dam on the Sacramento River.

He said also, that he would come to California in March to settle an agreement with irrigation districts in the upper valley so that work could commence within the year on Friant Dam on the San Joaquin River.

Mr. Dockweiler asked the Commissioner specifically if plans were progressing smoothly toward completion of the great $170,000,000 reclamation and flood control project, and was advised that matters had advanced to a point where actual construction of the major public works was in sight. The budget director recommended a $9,000,000 appropriation for Central Valleys in his budget message to congress. There remains, also, a large portion of $12,500,000 appropriated last year, together with an unexpended balance of about $4,000,000 from emergency relief appropriations. The new interior department appropriation bill, now being formulated by the house appropriations committee, will contain specific authorization for use of the unexpended balance of last year, during the coming fiscal year.

Mr. Page told of a new plan proposed to the Southern Pacific Railroad which will speed up construction of Shasta Dam by two years. Under this plan, a tunnel will be dug around the dam site through which the railroad will run its mainline trains and thus permit immediate work on the dam. While the tunnel is in use, a right of way will be obtained and new tracks laid on the south side of the Sacramento River. As soon as these are completed, the tunnel will be transformed into a diversion tunnel, carrying river water around the dam site while the dam is completed.

Friday night the Cub Pack meets at 5 o'clock at the Junior Community Hall.

Crowning feature of the week in El Dorado County will be the Fathers' and Sons' dinner on Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Federated Church. Stunts by the Scouts will make up the dinner program and following this there will be a district Boy Scout Court of Honor in the church auditorium.

Although the Mothers are, by inference, not invited to the Fathers' and Sons' dinner, Scout officers point out that the Court of Honor will follow the dinner and it is hoped that as many Scout Mothers as possible will attend this affair.

Rev. Immel Called To Curtis Oaks Pulpit

Rev. Wilder Immel, Scoutmaster of the Boy Scouts at the Federated Church, was unable to attend the Boy Scout Sunday services at the church.

Mr. Immel was called, at a late hour, to fill the pulpit of the Rev. Wesley Ford Sunday morning at the Curtis Oaks Christian Church, at Sacramento, and for this reason was unable to accompany his troops to the Boy Scout Sunday services.

Charles Gilmore had the misfortune Sunday afternoon while riding his bicycle east of town, of falling and cutting his hand. He was brought to the Placerville Sanatorium by passing motorists where he was treated by Dr. W. A. Reckers. It was necessary to take five stitches in order to close the wound.

RAYMOND HAIGHT TO SEEK GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

Raymond Haight, Progressive Party nominee for governor in 1934 and former State Corporation Commissioner, last night announced his candidacy on a fusion platform for the governorship on the Republican, Democratic and Progressive party ballots in the August primaries.

The candidate's formal statement of announcement outlined his views on major current issues and called upon the voters to join in a fusion movement "to restore governmental efficiency and break the ring of political corruption and racketeering which encircles California."

Haight is forty years of age and a descendant of a pioneer California family which came here in 1849. A graduate of the University of Southern California, he is married and is the father of three children. During the World War, he served in the aviation division of the United States Army. Haight is a member of the American Legion, Native Sons of the Golden West and is a member of the board of directors of the Wilshire Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles. He is the senior member of the law firm of Haight, Trippet and Syvertson.

In his statement, Haight said that his "determination to campaign for the governorship in 1938 is due to the continued loyal support of those splendid people, more than 300,000 strong, who stood with me in 1934."

Better Light
HELPS KEEP EYES RIGHT!

People say modern lighting that is "easy on the eyes" makes the eyes feel better... And they are right... Good lighting brings out the beauty of the home furnishings... It aids personal beauty, too.

LIGHT that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints and frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively. A Home Lighting Recommendation chart made out for your home will fit lighting to serve the exact seeing-needs in your home. This is a free service and there is no obligation. Hundreds are taking advantage of this service. Why not you?

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

The new year brings a number of books on the subject of parents and children. We dipped into Lee Shippey's "The Great American Family" after reading Sinclair Lewis' "The Prodigal Parents" and while Mr. Shippey may be a little minnow who has not yet ventured out into the depths where the leviathan Lewis floats with so much confidence, we wager that his book will be relished and enjoyed by many parents.

Lee Shippey is the columnist who writes "The Lee Side of L. A." for the Los Angeles Times. He has written two other books "Where Nothing Ever Happens" and "The Girl Who Wanted Experience." The charm of his new book lies in the fact that he writes about things he knows, seeing them with the accurate yet tolerant eye of the seasoned columnist. He knows Southern California. He knows the writing game and he knows children. The Seymours, parents of the great American family buy a house in Southern California. Mr. Seymour earns his livelihood by writing for magazines and papers, and the children, one suspects from the dedication of the book, have a close connection with the author.

The five children are born with speed and dispatch (although they are not quints) in the first chapter. Thereafter we see them grow and see their personalities develop. We missed that in the children of Sinclair Lewis' prodigal parents, a little more about their childhood would have convinced the reader why they got that way. Four of the Seymours are boys, the kind you have in your own home or have next door, who produce holes in their clothes in the twinkling of an eye and who go about with their shirt tails at half mast. Mr. Shippey takes us into the world with its triumphs and defeats, its brotherly scraps and brotherly loyalties. You will recognize the father and mother as the sort who never get into the newspapers, who are never quite free from budget worries and who enjoy and endure together.

We heard one parent say: "After reading about the children of the prodigal parents, I felt like sitting back and letting my youngsters shift for themselves but after I read about the great American family, I don't regret anything I've done. In fact, I want to do a lot more."

"I'd rather live with a man and love it than live alone and like it." Ann Fisher said to her publisher when he said something about Marjorie Hillis' book.

"Good, tell us why," the publisher answered. So Mrs. Fisher really wrote her little book "Live With a Man and Love It" as an impudent challenge to Marjorie Hillis.

Mrs. Fisher can't quite see a woman alone donning a fancy tea gown, sitting down in state near the bear skin rug and supping daintily on water cress sandwiches.

"When a woman is alone she cold creams her face, puts on an old kimono and takes it easy. As for the water cress sandwiches, women prefer steaks and rare beef. I have that statement on the authority of many."

"Marriage—what makes it tick and what gums up the works has always interested me," Mrs. Fisher said with a flourish of her competent hands. Mrs. Fisher began her career as a trained nurse and her hands are beautiful and capable. She is tall and rangy, tailored and zippered, with bobbed brown hair and kind understanding brown eyes. Her eyes must have inspired the confidences that were the basis of this book. When she worked in Denver for the bureau of animal husbandry, she was the only woman among forty-five men and they all brought their troubles to her. Later she had her own laboratory where many women discussed their problems with her. Yes, there is a Mr. Fisher who is a professor at Stanford university.

"Live With a Man and Love It" has had an amazing circulation since it came out last fall. It has been published in London, in Canada, in Australia and is just coming out in Scandinavia. Mrs. Fisher is working on a new book for men, this time, "Brides Are Like New Shoes."

"Men have three kicks against women," Mrs. Fisher said, "the first is nagging. Men are strange creatures and it doesn't pay to nag and tighten the noose. Another grievance is the wife that talks too much. It is so easy for a little thoughtless chatter to spoil a husband's career. Last, a man hates to be scolded when he is late for dinner and has a perfectly good reason for being late."

"Men have two pet peeves against women. They hate to see women make up in public and they hate to see them pull down their girdles in public." Mrs. Fisher doesn't stutter when she tells what really gets a man's goat.

The fan mail that Mrs. Fisher has received rivals that of a film star in proportion but hers is vastly more interesting. One man promises to remember her in his prayers because his wife actually profited by reading the book. She has cut out some of her annoying habits.

A cowboy from Wyoming wrote to Mrs. Fisher: "Hi, toots. I'm a puncher and a good roper and I make good money. I'll divide it up with you if you want to get spliced." A minister wrote her that he was a good, pure man and suggested that he might move next door to her in the hope that a romance might develop. A woman who had been married over fifty years wrote that her husband was running after a gypsy and it could not reveal its naval building program.

The foreign office spokesman in his "perhaps" statement today, repeated denials that Japan was planning 43,000 ton battleships.

PEACE EFFORT URGED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Less than two days after warning that the United States will build larger battleships, if necessary, secretary of state Cordell Hull proposed today that all nations make a "determined effort" to promote peace through reciprocal trade. Declaring that this country stands ready at any time to help bring about "a general limitation and reduction of armaments," Hull, speaking over a nationwide hookup last night, reiterated, however, that this nation would continue to "render adequate our military and naval establishment."

together they were practicing black hand on her. Please, what could she do about it?

The little sketches in the book are delightful. We like the first one where a woman has her man in the frying pan and is competently turning him over with the toasting fork. Yes, it's as easy as that, once you get the knack. So Mrs. Fisher thinks.

The most quotable book of the season is Lin Yutang's "The Importance of Living." May we quote a sentence or like? "The Chinese Yuan says—I have found that all people in the world who are dull in their conversation and hateful to look at in their faces are those who have no hobbies."
